Biographical Note

Helen Roth Hudson was born on December 26, 1923 in Richmond, Indiana to Raymond and Bessie Brown Roth, one of at least two children. She was married to Dr. Loy L. Hudson for 64 years (married around 1950), with whom she had two children. She was active in historical preservation and genealogy. She founded the first chapter of the Colonial Dames WWII Century (Edward Pearson Chapter) in Hagerstown, Indiana in 1973. She served as President General of The National Society of the Dames of the Court of Honor in 1887-1999 and held multiple offices in the National Association of Daughters of the American Colonists. She was also involved with the Daughters of the American Revolution and other genealogical societies. She wrote several books of genealogical research. She died September 21, 2014 and is buried at West Lawn Cemetery in Hagerstown, Indiana.
